

Thompson Placement Stability Unit (TPSU)

Helping maintain all types of placements for at-risk youth

What is TPSU?

The Thompson Placement Stabilization Unit (TPSU) program surrounds difficult-to-place teens with a team committed and equipped to bring stability into their story. In partnership with DSS, each team is customized to address the needs of the community it serves.

What can TPSU do for you?

Our goal is to support youth and their families through mentoring, coaching, counseling, support, crisis intervention, and basic care coordination.

After receiving a referral, TPSU will make contact with Case Managers within 24 hours and have services in place within the following 48 hours.

Who do we serve?

- Youth of all ages with placement instability or risk for instability.
- Youth struggling with behavioral disorders or in need of added support.
- Any adoption, family preservation, or investigations cases.

Where do we serve?

TPSU services are now available in North Carolina, in Buncombe and Jackson counties.

How we serve?

By offering support to both the youth and their families, we can:

- Increase placement stability.
- Create a smoother transition from emergency to long-term placements.
- Minimize additional trauma.
- Bring consistency to their lives.
